

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

They may tell us that this pee-wee golf business aids one's putting—but on the other hand some of the boys who know the difference between a brassie and a mashie will tell you different. Pee-wee golf, so it seems, is more a matter of luck than skill.

Life's little tragedies include the famous washing of the car. For hours one will work with hose and cloth and automobile polish, shining up old Lizzie until she looks like new. Then the proud owner draws back and declares to those who care to listen that it would be a shame to turn in such a good car.

He is quite proud of his job of washing and polishing and feels that the hours he spent on the job were worth while.

And then a few hours later it starts to rain and before he can get his machine into the garage, the down pour has completely ruined his car polish job.

Life is like that.

We were told a story last night by a college graduate that still leaves us chuckling.

In a certain class at a certain university twelve boys and girls were studying political history. Their "prof," so it seems, is one of these so-called minded professors of whom one reads about.

At the start of the year cards were handed out to the students to be filled in with names and addresses. There was an extra card.

So one of the girls got a brilliant idea and she filled out a card for a personage whom she named "Joe Bush." The rest of the class were put wise and one of the boys who worked in the recorder's office said he would catch the card when it came into the office.

And thus Joe Bush was added to the roll of the class. There were no oral examinations, and thus the twelve in the plot were aided.

Death Toll Mounts To 20 In Severe Eastern Cold Wave

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—UP—Winter squeezed its icy clamp on most of the nation tonight, shortened vast areas with snow, sent thermometers skidding downward elsewhere and generally routed all traces of Indian summer.

The cold wave broke all time October records in widely scattered cities while in Canada wheat farmers demoted the heaviest autumn snow fall in history.

Deaths attributable to the cold and to widespread snowfall mounted to 20 while suffering among the unemployed, particularly in the large cities, was intense. The salvation Army estimated that in Chicago alone 50,000 homeless men wandered all night through the streets or attempted to sleep under viaducts and in public parks.

When the mercury dropped to 24 and even lower in the suburbs, it was the coldest mid-October day here since 1895. Canadian temperatures ranged from two below zero to 15 above. Virtually the whole midwest was blanketed with below freezing weather.

The cold wave edged eastward, meanwhile, bringing with it sharply lowered temperatures and snow. In western New York drifts were five feet deep. Hundreds of motorists were marooned, snow plows even were mired.

The blizzard wreaked its greatest havoc in the Canadian prairie provinces where one third of the western wheat crop was buried under snow six feet deep in many places.

Thousands of acres of grain so buried probably never will be harvested, said G. H. Williams, president of the Saskatchewan section of the United Grain farmers of Canada. Many farmers, he added, face ruin.

The weather bureau predicted that the cold would remain in the midwest for at least two more days before it rolls slowly to the south-east.

REPORT NEAR ON BILLINGS HEARING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—UP—Justices of the California Supreme Court will soon start writing their opinions on Warren K. Billings' second appeal for pardon, and subsequent freedom from Folsom prison, where he is serving a life sentence on charges of perpetrating the premeditated day bombing here Chief Justice William H. Waste indicated in a statement late today.

"Consideration of the Billings pardon matter has reached the point where the justices are about to close the hearing entirely, preparatory to drafting the final report of Gov. Young," Justice Waste said.

He indicated that only an affidavit of unexpected importance would now delay final judgment in the matter, as it might require a continuation of open hearing that have already taken more than a month of the court's time.

When recommendations of the court are submitted to the governor, the latest appeal for pardon by Tom Mooney, convicted on the same charges as Billings, may also be decided. Mooney, because he has made his plea to the governor, who is aided by the Advisory Pardon board in determining its merits, while Billings, twice sentenced to prison, must appeal to the Supreme Court, which acts as a fact-finding commission for the governor in such cases.

"The official reporters of the court promised that the two copies of the 2000 page transcript, one for the justices, and one for the advisory pardon board, will be completed within a few days," Waste said.

Search by police throughout northern California was being pushed last night for Virginia Eddy, 10 year old Berkeley school girl who disappeared within a block of her home while on her way to class yesterday.

On her way to Golden Gate school she stopped to talk with a man in a machine, children reported to the mother when the girl failed to return home last night. Mrs. C. D. Eddy, 3225 Boise street immediately got in touch with police who broadcast an appeal to police to be on the lookout for the girl.

One child reported that there was a woman and a baby in the machine with the man whom they said was talking with Virginia. Teachers said the girl never reached school.

Virginia was born when her mother was the wife of Maurice Flynn, a mechanic of Portland, Ore. Divorce took place when the girl was one year old, and Flynn had never expressed any desires to see the girl, Mrs. Eddy said.

Six years ago Mrs. Flynn married Eddy, owner of an Oakland garage. Berkeley police last night telegraphed Portland police to find if Flynn is still in that city. His being located there or his absence will have much to do with the search that will follow if the girl does not return immediately, police say.

One of the girls who saw Virginia yesterday said she had hold of the man's hand to whom she was speaking, and that she turned to speak to her, and then again to the man.

Men have been stopping at the school recently and talking with children. Mrs. Flynn said teachers had told her, but none had ever given any trouble.

The missing girl was dressed in a pink and gingham dress, tan shoes, but wore no hat or coat. Mrs. Eddy said. She weighs 60 pounds and has black hair and dark brown eyes.

Soccer Club Defeated By Oakland Team

Although showing a plucky, hard brand of soccer football Sunday afternoon, the Richmond Soccer squad was trounced four goals to none by the Turnverein athletes of Oakland.

Only four local soccer athletes were present on the field at the beginning of the game. However, these four men stood the strong attack of the Turnvereins until the remainder of the team appeared. The visitors scored once in the first half. Richmond launched many drives into enemy territory in both first and second halves, but a sensational goalkeeper managed to keep his goal safe. The Turnvereins swept up the field two times to score in the last half, and scored again on a penalty.

The Richmond eleven included: Goal, Urquhart, fullbacks; Freese and Blair; halfback, Baker, Blair, and Long; forwards, Hood, Huettich, Glasson, and Grice, forwards.

LEGION ELEVEN DEFEATED BY ANTIOCH

Although the first team to cross the Antioch American Legion's goal line this year, the Richmond American Legion eleven lost to Antioch by a score of 25 to 6 Sunday afternoon at Antioch.

The Richmond warriors made a long touchdown, but a punt was blocked and recovered over the Antioch goal line.

Richmond once seriously threatened to score when Young, quarterback, made a long run far into his opponents' territory. Freeman, fullback, did exceedingly well for Richmond Sunday while "Red" Walton, formerly of the Berkeley High school eleven, made a fine impression in his debut with the local team in the tackle position.

The Antioch veterans gained their large lead over the local gridgers by clock-work plays and excellent teamwork that furnished the grandstands with a first-class football exhibition. Billesey and Brogan did well for the Antioch team.

El Cerrito Nine Wins Fast Contest

A four to three victory was gained by the El Cerrito fire fighters Sunday afternoon on the El Cerrito diamond over the Martinez Fire Department nine.

Carlson chucked well for El Cerrito, while Baxter received for the locals.

The El Cerrito firemen will probably play another team next week-end, although no opponent has as yet been named.

BELLAIRE, Mich.—J. W. Thumm recently harvested his lemon "crop." It consisted of one lemon he grew on a two year old tree but it measured 13-12 inches in circumference and provided lemonade for eight persons.

Local Tennis Club Defeated In Tournament

Handicapped by the absence of three outstanding athletes, the Richmond Tennis club netted lost five out of eight singles and three doubles matches to the Buena Vista club of Oakland Sunday on the local courts.

A return match has been scheduled between the Buena Vista club and Richmond club and Richmond will probably do much better in that journey as a result of the presence of the entire squad.

The results of Sunday's tournament were as follows:
George Rice (BV) defeated Phil Carlin (R) 6-2 and 6-3.
Phil Carlin (R) defeated Goran (BV) 6-0 and 6-0.
Carlson (BV) defeated D. Sutton (R) 6-3 and 7-5.
Shubert (BV) defeated B. Peterson (R) 6-1 and 6-3.

Woods (BV) defeated Yems (R) 6-2 and 6-3.
Larson (BV) defeated Truitt (R) 7-5 and 6-0.
Odrian Newman (R) defeated A. Brown (BV) 6-8, 6-3, and 6-4.

A. S. Remell (R) defeated R. Brown (BV) 6-2 and 6-4.
The results of the doubles matches were as follows:
Rice and Woods (BV) defeated Hurley and Carlin (R) 8-6 and 6-4.

Larson and Carlson (BV) defeated Hurley and D. Sutton (R) 6-3, 4-6 and 11-9.
Newman and Garibotti (R) won from A. Brown and L. Brown (BV) by default.

Friedman and Shubert (BV) defeated B. Peterson and D. Sutton (R) 6-4, 4-6 and 6-3.

Locals Win In S. F. Net Play

Sylvia Seawright and Jack Murock of Richmond qualified in the opening round of the Golden Gate Park handicap tennis tournament in San Francisco Sunday. The local doubles defeated Cella Rosenfeld and I. M. McDean by a score of 6-1, 6-3 after first drawing a bye. Murock and Miss Seawright thereby won the right to participate in the third round next Sunday at Golden Gate park.

Irwin Sutton and Helen Dunning, both of Richmond, were eliminated from the mixed doubles competition in San Francisco Sunday. They lost to Harold Cross, Francis racquet winder, and Harold Fried by a score of 1-6, 6-2 and 6-3. The local doubles staged a great battle against their veteran opponents Sunday.

Hoover Work Group To Meet

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—UP—Six men will meet at the White House tomorrow in the first of a series of conferences upon which may depend the bread, shelter and comfort this winter of hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of workless men and women.

President Hoover has assigned to this committee the problem of unemployment. Secretary of Commerce Lamont, chairman, called the first meeting. Other members are secretaries Wilbur, Davis, Hyde, Hurley and Mellon and Eugene Meyer, Jr., governor of the Federal Reserve board.

Unemployment is estimated variously from 2,500,000 to the census figure as of April 1—3,700,000. Estimated by the American Federation of Labor for the first six months of 1930. Some other unofficial estimates are 1,000,000 higher. Blizzards, cold weather and the loss of seasonal jobs combined to make unemployment suddenly acute this week.

Play Planned For Longfellow Junior School

With rehearsals under way for presentation of "Princely Pirate" by the Torchbearers of Longfellow Junior High school the evening of November 7 the spirit of the occasion shown by all students assures it will be a success, faculty members indicated yesterday.

The orchestra is practicing music for the event, and Miss Irma Kruse, director of the players declared they were progressing nicely. The play is to be presented in the Roosevelt auditorium.

Brewery Found In Old Cavern

BELOIT, Wis.—Beloit police and deputies investigating the mysteries of a newly discovered cave here found that visions of pirates gave way to bootleggers and the musty smell of treasure chests was replaced by the penetrating fumes of hidden brew.

Michigan Dairy Tests Completed

LANSING—Michigan stands as the first large dairying state to complete tuberculosis cattle testing in all counties within its borders, according to Dr. T. S. Rich, federal inspector in charge of bovine tuberculosis eradication. Only North Carolina and Maine, neither with an extensive dairying industry, completed the task before Michigan.

Getting Near

FAMOUS WAIKIKI BEACH and the land of dancing girls soon will be a mere seven days from New York, with the inauguration of a fast boat-train schedule. Fast, all-Pullman trains will operate from New York, connecting at San Francisco with the swift Matson liner Malolo. The first crack train from the east will leave Jan. 20, 1931. Incidentally the young Hawaiian maid pictured here has heard of the expected tourist stampede, and is brushing up a bit on her art.

CRIME PROBES SPLIT ON DRY LAW, REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—UP—President Hoover's crime commission is split on the subject of prohibition and its dryest member, Federal Circuit Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa, has asked permission to retire, it was disclosed today.

This development was taken to indicate that the commission's report to Hoover, and through him to congress, will probably be "moist" along the lines of thought of Chairman George W. Wickersham himself, also that Kenyon may retire later or present a dissenting opinion. His resignation had not been received at the White House, and it was believed that Hoover or Wickersham had prevailed on him to withhold action for a while at least.

Meanwhile the Supreme Court handed down another decision supporting the existing dry laws, by rejecting an appeal which attacked prohibition as a general infringement of personal liberty. It rejected without hearing an appeal of an injunction suit by A. Stanley Copeland, Buffalo, N. Y., minister, who has been fighting the dry laws since he invited passersby to drink wine with him on the steps of the courthouse eight years ago.

Kenyon's action in asking retirement was ascribed in published reports to two factors, his lack of sympathy with the commission's forthcoming report and the action of the commission in withholding the report until after the November 4 election. These reports were neither denied nor confirmed by the White House.

Fumes Victim To Be Buried Today

Burial of Candio Correa, El Cerrito man found dead under his automobile in the garage of his place 3246 Liberty street Saturday will be made today following services from St. John's Catholic church at 9:30 o'clock. The funeral procession will leave the family residence and then proceed to the church for the services. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

"Clara Bow" Gets Jail Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—UP—All her friends told her she looked just like Clara Bow, so she changed her name from whatever it used to be to the name of the movie star. But, just the very first time she tried to make whoopee, she fell afoul of the law, so today, "Clara" aged 40, was under a 30 day suspended sentence for "repeatedly falling down in the street and getting up again."

Nature's Medicine for Constipation

The greatest remedy for constipation known to mankind is provided by Nature in the form of herb juices. Plant lax, the remarkable liver tonic and internal cleanser, is a special combination of juices or extracts taken from harmless medicinal herbs. Not only does it sweep the bowels free of all accumulated waste matter, but it acts like a charm on the liver, causing that organ to throw off excess bile which pollutes the entire system. The very first dose gives amazing results. You lose that dull, lousy feeling which makes you want to sleep much. The coating on your tongue disappears. Headaches, sour stomach, indigestion, gas, bilious attacks, dizzy spells, sallow complexion or other symptoms of constipation and torpid liver can no longer exist when your system is thoroughly cleansed of its impurities.
Anybody can take Plantax without injurious effects. It works in a gentle, easy way—while you sleep. Large bottle $1 at all good drug stores.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

Women Live Longer Than Men—And How

IT'S a dull day when the news doesn't hold some joyful encouragement for women.

Some new record of feminine ability or achievement—Both are celebrated in a recent dispatch from Chicago.

Printed in The Evening World under the following feminist headlines:

"Women's Lives Longest by Taking Things Easier."

"Men Worry Themselves Into Earlier Graves, Says Expert."

Of course, at this point, the male cynic may point out That no wonder men worry themselves into their graves—

Since they have to worry so much about WOMEN! To which an inveterate woman will retort: "Who's asking men to worry?"

Anyhow, here's the news story of Wendell P. Coler, St. Louis statistician for one hundred and thirty-six insurance companies—

The story to which Mr. Coler sticks: Middle-aged women stand a much better chance to live to a ripe old age

Than men of similar years.

"When it comes to those of mature age," declares Mr. Coler "The life expectancy of women appears to be increasing

"While that of men seems to be breaking down."

"A woman of, say, forty-five or fifty in good health

"Is almost a sure bet to outlive a man of the same age and same apparent health."

"Women's situation is improving steadily.

"Women are having fewer children and there are fewer deaths during childbirth."

"Women, as a whole, are having an easier life, less drudgery, better care, and are improving in health."

Women, Mr. Coler also intimated, take more interest in their figures

And hence in their diets than do men.

It's an old saying that men dig their graves with their teeth.

Women furthermore have more leisure more absorbing interests and hobbies.

Then do their husbands.

The husbands spend too much time grubbing for a living

And worrying about it.

At this point again arises the voice of the cynic—we hear him complain:

"Men have to grub and worry for a living—

"Their womenfolk drive them to it, keep their noses to the grindstone—

"It's women's selfishness and extravagance that are responsible for men's shorter lives."

Right here, in the name of innumerable devoted American wives, we interpose an emphatic negative—

Wives are so often the excuse, not the explanation.

For the excess work and worry of their husbands!

Many a man says he's working for his wife and family.

When actually he's working because he loves his business better than wife and family.

His wife talks herself tired

In the effort to persuade him to let up, to take time off.

After he's crossed the fifty-year-old bridge.

After he's made all the money they really need.

After the children are grown up and gone.

She wants her husband to join her, then, in wise leisure and happy recreation.

Though she wants so much to have her husband share this easier life.

Nine times out of ten she cannot persuade him!

He sees nothing in life but his business or profession.

He talks about "staying in the ring till he drops."

He argues that "when a man retires he might as well be dead!"

Of such are the Dr. Serge Voronoff, famous French surgeon, recently remarked:

That Americans die at fifty, in the sense that their lives are finished.

Even though their life is not extinct.

The middle-aged American man so often will stick to his treadmill.

Because he hasn't the imagination to picture any other life in the world.

Even when his interest and dearest try to show it to him.

That's why there are so many more American widows than widowers—

And you needn't think the widows are happy about the state of affairs!

The middle-aged woman has learned how to live longer than men because she has learned

How to live more wisely, pleasantly, restfully—

But she's not gloating over this superiority of hers.

She's only wishing, so wistfully, so affectionately,

That she could convert to her way of life

The husband whom she loves.

FORMALITY of dress is one thing—and the right formality for the special evening occasion is quite another. Of course, there is always a dress that will "do," but we're getting more particular about our clothes than just that. The styles are more particular in themselves.

You can't wear a very low cut Empire gown to the theater and look right—that you need to keep for some much more important occasion—some more reception sort of thing. Again, a plain black satin with high neckline is perfect for the dinner of six or eight, while it would look a little meachin' if it were paraded at a very formal, dressy dance.

We can't all have our closets hanging full of evening clothes, but most of us, by using good judgment and managing cleverly can have two or three different sorts of evening things that will run the gamut of the winter's socialities with grace enough

Gold Formality

DULL metal cloths stand first and foremost for formality and Molyneux has designed this lovely thing of gold chiffon tissue.

It is as soft looking as a chiffon but its gleam proclaims it a handsome gown fit for the most formal of settings.

Then the designer has seen fit to trim it with sable—a brand new idea and perfectly lovely in color, for the yellow brown tones of the fur compare so gorgeously with the shimmering light of the gold.

Gloves are worn now in the evenings—that is an established fact—gloves of all colors when they are rightly done. For this gown then use flesh colored long suede gloves—that flesh tone which verges toward yellow rather than pink, so that the tone of the suede will compose with the yellow tints of the gold and the fur.

Gold moire or brocade slippers and flesh colored stockings would be the best choice. And, if possible, leave off all jewelry, for there is no use piling glitter upon glitter, and the hand-someness of the gown is quite able to take care of itself in that respect.

Wear earrings, if you wish, but they should be of some gold filigree with emeralds or pearls—and perhaps one ring to match.

Informal Dinners

THE Redfern dress of black satin is perfect for the small informal dinner or for the theater. You can wear it to the evening bridge game where four or eight are gathered together. It is of heavy though softish black satin wrapped about the hips and hanging in many folds to the floor.

You wear black suede gloves with a dress like this—that is when the theater is on the evening's program—and, of course, black suede pumps.

It is not an important costume but it is very smart and it allows you to sink in the crowd while at the same time you hold an individual position of distinction.

What About Evening Hats

THERE are lots of evening hats in the fashion this year—some of them too awful for words and some of them fascinatingly good. There are heads of hair which really need hats, and these can find their own true expression this season. But if the hair is well groomed and the question is whether to wear a hat or go without—then make your decision against the hat. You are safest that way, and a beautifully coiffed head of hair is about the most attractive top you could manage to carry about with you.

Tulle hats are worn with dinner dresses—but not for dinner at home. Velvet turbans wound about the head are, generally speaking, most becoming, and a diamond or precious stone clasp adds a lot of becomingness and charm. A twisted gold or silver cloth turban is lovely with the right frock.

Avoid spangles and beads. They are apt to look more like Mrs. Hick than Mrs. Upper Park Avenue. Some one I know always calls them New York, New Haven and Hartford hats—you can see what she means.

Entertaining at Home

THE wrappy, drapery dress of black and flesh pink satin is wonderfully adapted to entertaining informally at home. The skirt's sunburst accordion pleating at the side and the same facing for the big turn-back revers lift it out of mediocrity and make of it a most graceful hostess gown.

It is for the older woman. It has a wealth of dignity and charm. And for the expectant mother—what a dress! The like of it would be hard to find in a week's journey.

For Youthful Dancers

A VERY young dance dress or the coarsest of black net has a turquoise velvet bow for trimming—a chance to wear the lovely turquoise jewelry even in abundance, if you wish—bracelets, necklace, earrings, even the buckles on your black satin shoes.

Black suede long gloves or whitish ones with a pink cast to them complete the arrangement, and a young thing is dressed too sweetly for dancing on a restaurant roof or for a private dance if that is the direction in which she is bound.

Making Up the Matron

THERE are those who don't believe in make-up for the mature. Certain husbands, for example, and other reactionaries.

But this department well the magic of make-up, and having no patience whatsoever with the "be your age" theory, especially in the case of grannies, begs leave to offer ladies over fifty a few hints on highlighting themselves.

Now, there seem to be two dermatological classifications to which all women of advanced years belong. There are those who grow pale with age, and there are those who grow pink. And as a general rule the pink ones tend to fleshiness, especially in the region of the face. The pale ones incline toward thinness, also noticeably about the face.

Let us talk about the pink and the plump first. Rouge, you know, serves a dual purpose. It enkindles the face and it changes the apparent structure of the face. If one wishes to make a broad face appear less broad, one of the simplest ways is to rouge in a narrow area—well in from the nose and the temples and rather low on the cheeks. A splendid hint to the plump cheeked matron.

Rouge should always match as closely as possible the natural glow of the skin. A rule that the "older woman" must adhere to rigidly. Exotic orange reds are not for her, nor the so-called "conservative" dark tones either. As a matter of fact, those dark purplish rouges do not become anybody. A good clear rosy red is the best bet. Applied with discretion and taste, it puts youth in an ageing face, whether that face is plump or thin.

When the pinkness of the matron approaches floridness, rouge is best omitted, of course. And powder should be of a flesh-cream tone, the amount of flesh tint depending on the degree of floridness. When the skin approaches the red, it needs toning down, but when it presents an all-over glow, then good artistry demands that as much of that glow be preserved as is becoming.

Obviously, the pale, thin-faced matron has need of rouge. To such women rouge is a boon and blessing. And they can make of it a miracle worker if they will apply it rather high on the cheeks and in broad sweeps from the nose to the temples. Powder for the pale lean lady of "years" is most flattering when it has a dash of pink in its composition—pink plus a rich creamy tone.

Lipstick for all dowagers, whether they be pale or pink, plump or hollow cheeked, should be of a healthy but subdued rosy tone. Need we suggest that it be applied with an eye to economy and conservatism rather than smartness and dash? Unquestionably the lady is the rare exception—slim, chic, silver-haired and striking. An individual, one who dares to be herself, by which we mean, first, an alluring self—and gets away with it successfully.

Perhaps the most magical of all make-up items for the matron are eye crayon and mascara. For the eyes of the mature, far more than those of the tenderly young, need accenting. Eyebrows, you know, are among the first of the features to show age. They have a way of growing mousey and the eyelashes a way of growing sparse with the advancing years. But, oh what a deft touch of color will do for them! We suggest brown mascara and crayon—to be used delicately and with discretion.

A DISH A DAY

Big shipments of cranberries came into our markets earlier than usual this year, so that now when we would ordinarily be getting the first of the new crop we have already been enjoying them for weeks.

Cranberries are indelibly linked with the menus of our winter holidays, but they shouldn't be relegated to those days of turkey and trimmings.

They deserve an honored place in the diet from day first fall day when they appear to the time long past their season in the market when the last glass of cranberry jelly is reluctantly taken from the supply shelf.

Their delicious tart flavor combines well with fowl and veal, but there are many other attractive and delicious ways of serving cranberries. They are not merely an accompaniment to meat, they provide a piquant addition to fruit salad dressing, an excellent ingredient for pies and material for a great variety of strudels, jelly rolls and whips.

Have you ever eaten cranberries raw? I haven't, so I cannot tell you whether it is just one of those mistaken ideas of a raw-food cult, or a genuinely appealing idea. I have just heard from a Cape Cod correspondent that up there they put raw cranberries and oranges through a grinder, mix them with sugar, let them stand ten or twelve hours and serve the mixture as a relish.

Perhaps you will want to try it, but remember, I haven't recommended it yet. In a day or two I shall report what I think of this innovation. And in the mean time it wouldn't surprise me to hear from several of you that raw cranberry relish is as common in your house as breakfast cereal.

Today I am going to tell you how to make cranberry jelly. That may seem as superfluous to some expert cooks as directions for boiling water, but many of my correspondents tell me that when they try to make cranberry jelly it is either tough and stringy or not firm enough. Here is a recipe in which the proportions are just right for making jelly that is delicate, yet firm.</

WHERE YOU GOING MR. GRAHAM?

THERE'S A BIG FIGHT TONIGHT BETWEEN KID DUFFY AND TIGER SMITH—I WOULDN'T MISS IT FOR THE WORLD—WANNA COME?

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically, and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

FILM WRITER BEATEN IN BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—UP—A reported free-for-all fight in the home of Mrs. Hazel Glab, during which A. N. Day, scenario writer, was beaten, was under investigation by police today.

Mrs. Glab is the widow of John I. Glab, retired Chicago druggist, who was mysteriously murdered in front of the Glab home here two years ago.

Day was taken to the north Hollywood hospital, suffering from the beating. His chauffeur, Raymond Allen, said that four men "muscle in" on a party in the Glab home, D. H. McMillan, a friend of Allen, said that Mrs. Glab struck him over the head with a gin bottle during the fight.

According to Allen, the three went to the Glab home and found Mrs. Glab and Mrs. Bessie Burke there. A short time later four men, one a Filipino, entered and the fight started. Mrs. Glab denied hitting Allen with a bottle. Allen said that Day had won on the races and that $300 was taken from his pocket during the fight. The four unidentified men fled.

The murder of Glab, at first charged to the widow and her 17-year old niece, Ethyl Kaser, has never been solved. The women said they were playing pinocle in the house when Glab was shot as he stood by his automobile.

Brother Of W. S. Roberson Dies In Crash

Death of Charles E. Roberson, brother of Will S. Roberson of this city in an automobile accident in Portland Sunday caused the Richmond man and his wife to leave for the northern city to make funeral arrangements.

Meager reports reaching here stated Roberson was killed along with another man when they were on their way to play golf.

Roberson's age was approximately 35. He was a graduate of the University of California and had resided in Santa Rosa and Berkeley previous to his residence in the north.

It is expected the body will be brought back to Berkeley or Oakland for funeral services. Mrs. Alice Roberson his widow survives.

Charities Aided By Court Decision

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 20.—UP—Eighteen Kansas City charitable organizations tonight rejoiced in a federal court decision handed down here today releasing approximately $4,000,000 for their use. The decision upheld the will of Harry Wilson Loose, which created a huge charity request as a memorial to his mother, Mrs. Carrie L. Loose.

Releasing of the bequest, which has been tied up by litigation, came on the day Kansas City associated charities began a concerted drive for $1,115,000 to be used among the unemployed and disabled persons.

Loose, who died at his New York home Dec. 20, 1927, was a son of Joseph S. Loose, former president of the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company.

Woman Held In Raid On Bank

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 20.—A grey-haired, motherly woman walked into the Union Bank and Trust company here today and threatened to blow up the bank with "nitroglycerine" she said held in a bottle, unless tellers gave her $3000.

She was seized. Investigators discovered the bottle contained sweet milk mixed with coppers. She was held in jail tonight. No charges had been filed.

Behind her actions, the woman, Mrs. Mary Rosenthal, 53, revealed a story of the misery of unemployment and hunger, and a desire to get into prison for warmth and comfort.

MARTINEZ, Oct. 20.—A property settlement negotiated between the late Frank M. Silva, Richmond and his wife in 1913 caused him to will her only $10 of his nearly $10,000 estate, it became known here today when the will was filed for probate in Superior court. The bulk of the estate was willed to his two sons, Lawrence and Frank.

J. T. Silva, a brother filed the will for probate. James F. Hoey is attorney for the petitioner.

EL CERRITO IN MOVE TO ZONE COMMUNITY

First steps toward the zoning of El Cerrito was taken by the city council of El Cerrito at its meeting Monday night when a zoning ordinance passed its first reading and Mayor J. R. Beck and City Clerk Mrs. Alice Walker were instructed to sign a contract with Dr. Carl Aronovici, city planning expert, to zone the city.

The ordinance, passed tentatively, sets the zones to conform with the present locations of residents, business and light industry districts. It provides that a permit for any building erected during the forming of the final zoning ordinance must be secured from the city council.

Under the terms of the contract with Dr. Aronovici the city is to pay the city planning expert $500 in four payments.

Final passage of the ordinance which passed the first reading at the council of El Cerrito Monday night prohibiting the use of sidewalk area and the area between the sidewalk and the curb for displaying merchandise or having any obstructions in it will mean that fruit stands will have to be put behind the property line, and will tend to clean up San Pablo avenue.

The ordinance also provides that permission must be received from the city council to erect any sign over the area between the property line and the curb.

Recommendation of Safety Commissioner Phil A. Lee that the city should erect stop and go signals at Fairmont avenue and Potrero avenue on San Pablo avenue at a cost of $31150 was referred to Lee for one week to obtain costs of maintenance.

Lee stated that two deaths had occurred through accidents on San Pablo avenue lately and the city should do something to protect the lives of the public.

No action was taken on the offer of W. S. Farley, tax assessment appraiser, to make a survey of the city equalizing the assessments for a sum of $4000 as no provision was made in the budget for the additional expense.

Recommendation of Fire Commissioner that ten volunteer firemen be paid for answering alarms and attending drills was laid over for one week for the councilmen to decide on the rate of pay.

The schedule of pay submitted for consideration is $2.50 for each alarm answered where hose is laid and water used on the fire, $1.50 for each false alarm or small fire and $1.00 for each drill attended of which there is not to be more than two each month.

On a motion of Councilman Ernest O'Brien the council passed a resolution extending their condolences to the family of the late Congressman Charles F. Curry.

Request of the Fairmont P. T. A. for an officer to help the school children across the railroad tracks on Stockton avenue was referred to Councilmen Hans M. Nissen, Phil A. Lee and Chief of Police R. R. Cheek to confer with the school authorities and see if they would have the children cross the tracks at through streets instead of blind streets as some are doing now.

As the children are compelled to walk in the street along Stockton avenue which is very dangerous. Mayor J. R. Beck appointed Councilman Peter Larsen, Phil A. Lee and City Engineer Ross L. Calfee and City Attorney T. H. DeLap as a committee to see if the property would stand an assessment to widen Stockton avenue and construct sidewalks.

A petition of residents that a special officer be hired to conduct school children across San Pablo Avenue at Potrero avenue was turned down by the council and the recommendation of Chief of Police R. R. Cheek that the regular traffic officer was better qualified to handle the work was concurred in by the council on a motion of Councilman Phil A. Lee by a vote of three to two. The vote was: Councilmen Ernest O'Brien, Lee and J. R. Beck, ayes; and Councilmen Peter Larsen and Hans M. Nissen, noes.

Police Commissioner Hans M. Nissen had recommended the employment of a special officer as he stated he thought Chief Cheek, who is also tax collector, would be too busy with tax collections at this time.
